REPORT.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT, MICHIGAN.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Detroit, Dec. 24th, 1862.

To His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief:

I have the honor to submit the following report of operations falling within the supervision of this Department during the past year.

At the date of my last report, there were in process of organization, at various points in the State, five Regiments of Infantry, a Regiment of Lancers, and Three Batteries of Artillery. The Lancer Regiment was soon after disbanded, by order of the War Department. The completion of the others was pushed forward as rapidly as practicable, and they left the State in the following order:

13th Infantry,	925	strong,	Feb'y	12, 1862

On application of Lt. Col. J. R. Smith, U. S. Military Commander at this post, the War Department, near the close of the month of April, authorized the raising of a Company to act as guard over rebel prisoners at Mackinac. This Company, (known as the Stanton Guard,) 101 strong, was mustered into the service May 10th, and proceeded immediately to Mackinac.

The necessity for its services having passed, it was disbanded on the 25th of September.

Returns made in July, by the various Regiments, Batteries and Companies sent into the service of the United States, by this State, exhibited the fact that since the completion of their muster-in-roll, 2028 recruits have been added to their strength. This addition gives the actual number of officers and men, who had been enrolled and mustered in the national service from this State, from the commencement of the war to the 1st of July last, as follows:

To this number there ought properly be added companies known to have gone into regiments of other States, specified in last report,.....	1,453

If there should be included in these figures the number of men actually mustered into the U. S. service in the "Lancer" Regiment, and in "Hughes' Horse Guards," and who were disbanded under orders from the War Department before entering upon active duty, we would have an aggregate of nearly twenty-seven thousand men, who had volunteered into the service of the Federal Government from this State, previous to the 1st of July.

The first call (April 15th, 1861,) made by the President upon Michigan for troops to aid in the suppression of the rebellion, was for one regiment only, and was met by the muster into service of the Three Months' Volunteers.

Under the law of August 3, 1861, authorizing the President to receive into service 500,000 volunteers, the proportion of Michigan was 19,500. In response to this requisition, the State furnished sixteen Regiments of Infantry, three of Cavalry, one of Engineers and Mechanics, eight Batteries, six Companies of Sharp-Shooters, an independent Squadron of Horse, and companies and recruits sufficient to make a total of 23,501 volunteers actually placed in the field, and known as Michigan troops, not counting 1,453 connected as companies with the organizations of other States, and about 1,000 more who were disbanded after having been mustered into the National service.

CALL FOR THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND VOLUNTEERS.

On the second of July last, the President, under the advice of the Governors of the loyal States, issued a proclamation calling for the enlistment of an additional force of 300,000 men. The quota of Michigan under this call was 11,686, and the War Department issued its requisition for the immediate raising, as a part of this force, of six Regiments of Infantry. Under your direction, orders were forthwith published from this Department, appealing to the people of the State for a prompt and effective response, and prescribing regulations for a system of organization. The Seventeenth Regiment of Infantry had already been ordered, though little progress had been made in filling its ranks. This was left to be completed by recruits from the State at large, while the six Regiments called for were apportioned respectively to the six Congressional Districts into which the State is divided, with the understanding that each Regiment should depend upon its own District for men to fill it. The respective Camps were designated, and a Commander appointed for each.

The response of the people of the State to the President's call was patriotic and prompt almost beyond expectation. Individuals of every degree of prominence forthwith began to interest themselves in the business of filling the Regiments; communities gave to it their time and their almost exclusive attention, while, better than all, the substantial masses of the people offered themselves in person. War meetings were held in almost every village and township in the State. Representatives of all classes converted themselves either into recruits or recruiting officers, and among the most efficient of the latter were Ministers of the Gospel, some of whom led the men they had enlisted into the field. The sums of money that were contributed for the support of the families of those who offered themselves as volunteers, were very large.

In a very short time this Department was in receipt of applications from every section of the State, seeking of your Excellency authority to recruit, and desiring instructions and forms for the enlistment of Companies. Facilities to promote this purpose were promptly furnished, and as soon as the camp grounds could be provided with suitable quarters, men began to flock in by Companies and detachments. The gentlemen who had been charged with the duty of supervising the organization of the Regiments, performed their labors with diligence and success, and in little over a month from the date of the President's call, men enough had been raised in the State, and nearly enough were in camp, to fill all the Regiments which the War Department had asked for as the number first needed under the President's requisition.

In the meantime, while the patriotism of the people was thus zealously manifesting itself in all portions of the State, the people of Detroit and of Wayne county desired an opportunity to put in the field a Regiment of their own citizens, in addition to those already in progress. Authority was promptly given by you for this purpose, and the 24th Regiment was ordered, organized, and placed in rendezvous at Detroit, making the eighth Infantry Regiment then in course of completion.

The labors thrown upon the general government by the necessity of providing for the immense masses of levies raised under the new call, caused some delays in arming and equipping these troops, and the men were ready before the supplies. Nevertheless, the Regiments were prepared for the field with great dispatch, and were mustered into the service and left the State fully armed, clothed and equipped, in the order mentioned hereafter.

On the 20th of August, when the organization of the eight Regiments referred to was complete, and their ranks nearly full, by your direction another order was issued from this office, organizing the 25th and 26th Infantry. More companies than could be provided for had been offered to the District Regiments. These were assigned to the 25th and 26th, and measures were taken to put these Regiments in condition for active service at as early a date as was practicable. The period of muster and departure of these two Regiments is also included in a table which will be found on a succeeding page.

About the time that the President's last call for volunteers appeared, your Excellency had permission from the War Department to send into the field another Regiment of Cavalry, and forthwith ordered the preliminary measures toward that end to be taken. Authority to recruit for this service was eagerly sought for, and the 4th Cavalry was rapidly organized, and on the 29th of July was ordered into rendezvous at Detroit. On the 29th of August it was mustered into the United States service, full to the maximum, and was only awaiting its horses and equipments. As soon as these were provided, it left the State on the 26th of September.

Soon after the organization of the Fourth, Col. J. T. Copeland, late of the First Cavalry, sought and obtained the permission of the War Department, subject to your sanction, to raise another Regiment for the same branch of service; and still later—when the President had issued an order providing for the draft of a further force of 300,000 men, to which more extended reference will be made hereafter—Hon. F. W. Kellogg, Member of Congress from this State, secured authority, also conditional upon your approval, to raise two additional Regiments for the same arm. The Fifth and Sixth Cavalry, comprising two of the three Regiments thus authorized, were recruited with great rapidity, and would have been in the field by the 1st of October had horses, arms and equipments been provided as fast as the men were ready for them. They left the State in the early part of December, a Battery of Light Artillery being connected with the former.

Further details in reference to these, as well as the older Regiments, will be found on succeeding pages under the head of "Michigan Troops in the Field."

The bodies of troops thus referred to, comprise all the distinct organizations that have yet been sent out of the State into active service since the requisition of the President, made on the second of July last. The numerical designation of the Regiments, the number of men borne on their muster-in-rolls, the date of their final muster into the United States service, the date of their departure, and the original destination assigned to each by the orders of the War Department, are given in the subjoined table, the Regiments being arranged in the order in which they left the State.

The quality of the men, physically, mentally and morally, who form the material of these Regiments, has never been and never can be excelled in the armies of any State or nation on earth, and it may well be questioned if it was ever equalled outside of the limits of this Union.

The Infantry Regiments have gone into the field thoroughly armed and equipped, the arms furnished them having been Springfield, Enfield, and Austrian rifled muskets. The Cavalry have been equally well equipped, but a portion of the arms of some of them remained to be furnished after reaching the seat of war.

The recruiting service for the Regiments in the field is under the exclusive control of the General Government, and is superintended in this State by Lieut. Col. J. R. Smith, U. S. A., and though not strictly coming within the requirements of this Report, it is but justice to a faithful public officer, that testimony should be borne herein to the energy, judgment, and untiring assiduity with which he has discharged the complicated duties of his position.

The records in Col. Smith's office show that on the 23d of December instant, there had been received in Barracks at this post, since the 2d of July last, 2,156 recruits, enlisted for three years, for the Michigan Regiments in active service. These figures, added to the sum furnished in the table above, show the total number of three years' volunteers from this State who had, between those dates, been mustered into the armies of the United States, and sent into the field, as follows:

ENROLLMENT OF MILITIA.

While the people and the military departments were actively engaged in meeting the requisition of July 2d for additional volunteers, as mentioned above, an order was issued, on the 4th of August, by the President of the United States, to the effect that, in addition to the force already called, a draft of three hundred thousand militia, to serve for nine months, unless sooner discharged, should be immediately called into the national service; the draft and the apportionment of quotas to be made under such regulations as the Secretary of War should establish. In pursuance thereof, on the 9th of the same month, General Orders were promulgated from the War Department, prescribing the necessary details for the execution of this measure, and assigning the quota of each State, that for Mich-gan being the same as under the last call for volunteers, viz: 11,686. The preliminary duties enjoined were the enrolling of the militia, by township officers, and the appointment of commissioners and surgeons to determine exemptions, the former having the general superintendence of the draft in their respective counties. It was also ordered that no new Regiments of volunteers should be organized after the 15th of August, and that in case State quotas under the call for 300,000 volunteers should remain unfilled at that date, incomplete Regiments should be consolidated, and an additional draft be made to supply the deficiency. Advanced bounty money, ($25,) and one month's pay, ($13,) which had been given to volunteers since the 2d of July, was to be continued to recruits for the old Regiments. A subsequent order, of August 14th, provided for a division of State quotas among counties and subdivisions of counties; and special instructions, of a still later date, directed that "if the volunteers for old and new Regiments, mustered from July 2d, exceed the number called for, (11,686,) the excess may be deducted from the number drafted."

Accepting the exigency which demanded this new call upon the resources and patriotism of the people, your Excellency issued a proclamation directing the assessors in every ward and organized township in the State, "to make and complete a census of the male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, in their respective townships or wards, according to the printed forms furnished for that purpose, and to make a return of the same to the county clerk of their respective counties on or before the 10th day of September, A. D. 1862." More detailed instructions and the necessary forms were at the same time furnished from this office.

The work thus allotted to the assessors was very generally performed with promptness, notwithstanding the great extent of our territory, and the infrequency of public communications in the more sparsely settled portions of it.

The people of the State assented with great unanimity and willingness to the propriety of this new requisition upon them, but the desire was general to obviate, if possible, the necessity of a draft, by furnishing the quota demanded in volunteers. To procure enlistments for three years instead of drafted levies for nine months, was obviously, where the choice was practicable, to consult the interests of the public service. The government found it expedient, on account of the want of preparation existing in most of the States, whereby to secure an impartial draft, to postpone the period fixed for it to take place, and to extend the time for the completion of the regiments in process of organization; and the sentiment of the people, and the public good, were alike regarded in a renewed and energetic effort to raise the needed number of men by voluntary enlistments for three years. The government continued to allow bounty and advance pay to recruits for the old regiments, which needed them, and by special authority continued it to those enlisting in regiments not yet completed.

The Commissioners appointed by you to superintend the draft, together with the sheriffs and clerks of counties, were constituted recruiting officers. A General Order was issued from this Department, apportioning the quota to be raised on the basis of the census of 1860, (the military enumeration being yet incomplete,) and accrediting each county with the number of men which had been furnished by each since the 2d of July, as shown by special returns made from the regiments themselves. These credits were prepared with a very large amount of labor, and with the most anxious care to deal justly by all sections. The usual muster rolls show only the place of enlistment, not that of residence. To secure the information needed, special company rolls, with columns designating both the township (or ward) and county of the volunteer, were prepared, and a special agent was sent from this office to every regiment, previous to its departure from this State, to secure the utmost possible accuracy and completeness in filling them up. The Commanding Officer of each company was required to ascertain from each man on his roll, individually, the place of his residence, and to verify his return by his official signature, given on his honor as an officer. It is known that substantial justice to the various counties was effected, though to escape error entirely was hardly possible. The carelessness or hurry of officers, the temporary absence of men, and the occasional confounding, through a misunderstanding of the purpose of inquiry, the place of residence with that of nativity, or of enlistment, or the post office address, led to mistakes which no amount of care in this Department could prevent. To remedy these, as far as practicable, a written list was sent to the Clerk, or Commissioner, of every county, showing the name and township of every volunteer who had been returned as a resident thereof, within the prescribed period; and the Commissioner, (or in the absence of one, the Sheriff,) was clothed with all the powers necessary, in almost every instance, to secure equal and exact justice to every locality.

Accompanying this apportionment of the quota to the respective counties, was a statement of the number still needed in each to supply the demand upon it; and it was proposed that the counties should supply the deficiency on this basis, and thus avoid the necessity of a draft.

A spirited and general effort was at once made throughout the State to comply with this suggestion, and a very considerable number of recruits were furnished to the regiments in the field. But to raise the number yet lacking by enlistments in the old regiments, without mischievous delays, was found, after fair trial, to be impracticable. The most expeditious recruiting is accomplished when individuals act together to build up an entire organization. A man who undertakes to raise a company has usually a selection of two Lieutenants, five Sergeants, and eight Corporals. He finds among these an efficient corps of recruting officers, who devote their attention, each in his own locality, to the object of raising a body of 101 men, who will, in a certain sense, form a distinct family. Neighborhood friendships are invoked in its behalf, and the pride and emulation of rival communities are active agencies in the promotion of its success. In recruiting for an old regiment, there are none of the advantages of this combination. Occasionally, in rare instances, where regiments have become greatly depleted, it might be practicable to infuse with new strength a limited number of officers; but as a general thing officers cannot be given to them from civil life, without working injustice to men whose faithful service in the ranks, or gallant conduct in the field, entitles them to promotion, and weakening the morale of the service.

The War Department, fully aware of the condition of affairs, left the time for drafting to the discretion of the Governors, and the Commissioners in this State not having been able to complete their preparations, it was determined to afford further opportunity for filling the quota by voluntary enlistments in new regiments.

Early in September, three companies of men, nearly full, had been offered from the Upper Peninsula, and there was reason to believe that three more would be filled in the same section of country. The 27th infantry was, therefore, with the assent of the government, organized and put in rendezvous at Port Huron. The authority given by the War Department to Hon. F. W. Kellogg, to raise the 7th Regiment of Cavalry, was confirmed by your Excellency, and that regiment was thereupon organized, and ordered by you, under date of October 29th, to rendezvous at Grand Rapids. At the same time you accorded your sanction to permission which had been previously given by the general government, subject to your approval, to Colonel John Stockton, of Mount Clemens, and to Captain James I. Davids, of Trenton, to raise each an additional regiment of Cavalry, and the 8th was thereupon ordered, with its camp at Mount Clemens, and the 9th, which has its quarters at Coldwater.

An urgent desire having been manifested to organize another Infantry Regiment, Col. Edward Doyle, of Detroit, received authority, with the assent of the War Department, to raise the twenty-eighth; and on application of your Excellency, the Department also consented to the raising of a regiment of Sharp Shooters, the organization of which has been placed in the charge of Capt. C. V. DeLand, of the Ninth Infantry. The government had specially authorized advanced bounty and one month's pay to volunteers, in either of these regiments, and vigorous efforts were very generally entered upon to fill their ranks. This accomplished, with the aid of a very moderate success on the part of the large number of officers from old regiments now detailed for recruiting service in the State, and the quota would be full.

It was supposed by many citizens that were an opportunity offered for men to enlist for the same term as the law provided for drafted levies—nine months—larger numbers would avail themselves of it to volunteer for that period who declined to accept a longer service. Willing to afford every reasonable encouragement to the disposition so generally manifested to furnish all the men required, without resorting to draft, and fully mindful, also, of your obligations to the National Government, your Excellency, on the 29th of November, issued a proclamation, which so clearly represents the situation at the time, and is so intimately connected with our State military record, that I take the liberty of presenting it in full, under the conviction that this Report would be incomplete without it:

PROCLAMATION.

To the People of the State of Michigan:

It is essential to the maintenance of the honor of the State, by meeting its obligations to the Federal Government, that the quota of the troops required of Michigan under the call for 600,000 men, should be speedily furnished. I have felt great confidence that this might be done without resort to a draft, but it will be impossible at the rate enlistments have been making for the last month and more. The number required of each town and ward in the State has been assigned upon the principle of giving credit for all recruits furnished since the first of July last. Substantial justice in this respect has been done toward all. To be exact was impossible, and to go back of the first of July was impracticable, both because the order of the Secretary of War did not authorize it, and because there was no reliable record by which such credit could be made up with any chance of fairness.

It is, therefore, indispensable that the several towns, and wards of cities, should furnish the number of recruits assigned to them, and I take this occasion to assure the people that unless the men are furnished by voluntary enlistment, they will be taken by the draft.

For the purpose of still giving abundant opportunity to fill the quota of the State by voluntary enlistment, recruiting will be continued as follows:

1st. Recruits will be received for new regiments now forming in the State, and for all the old regiments now in the field, until, and including, the 29th day of December next. These must be enlisted for the term of three years or during the war.

2d. From the 1st to the 16th day of December next, volunteer recruits will be received for old regiments only, to serve for nine months, in pursuance of the act of Congress.

3d. On the 30th day of December next, the draft will commence and proceed until the requisite number is obtained in all those towns and wards which shall then be found delinquent.

Less than four thousand men are now required to fill the entire quota of the State, and I earnestly hope that they will be found to come forward cheerfully, and enlist for the war, as all our troops thus far have done. And I desire this, not so much because there is anything discreditable in a draft, as because it is exceedingly desirable that all the troops from Michigan should stand on the same footing in the army. Let the people of Michigan make one more loyal and vigorous effort, and the entire number required can be obtained, and the high reputation of the State for patriotism and promptness will be maintained.

AUSTIN BLAIR.

Dated Jackson, Nov. 29th, 1862.

According to the records of the recruiting service in this State, as kept at the office of Col. Smith, the Superintendent, the entire number of nine months' volunteers who had been entered up to the date of this report, was six.

While there is no doubt that many townships have filled, and some of them more than filled, their proportion of county quotas, it is yet true that in the State at large, and in many of the counties, there remains, at the date of this report, a small deficiency to be supplied. The entire number required under the call for volunteers and the order to draft, was..... 23,372

The most strenuous efforts have been made, by most of the townships and wards yet behind, to furnish the number required of them without recourse to a draft, and for this purpose large local bounties are offered, and other efficient means of recruiting are employed. Many counties expect to, and will probably, succeed in escaping a draft altogether.

Within a few days a supplementary return will be furnished from this office to the several commissioners, giving them the names of such volunteers as have enlisted from their respective counties since the completion of the list previously sent to them, as far as they have been reported here; and the labors of those officers will then have reached such results that, with the assistance of this return and the general instructions which will accompany it, they will be prepared to draft the deficiency of each township with great promptness.

The enumeration ordered in your proclamation of August last, has resulted in obtaining a very reliable knowledge of the military strength of the State. In some of the remote and sparsely settled counties, the officers have not yet made the required returns, but in most of these counties the full quota has already been furnished, while in others it is too small to warrant a resort to the draft, especially while our relations with the Indian tribes are at all precarious. The most considerable and the least remote of the counties on the Lower Peninsula, which has thus failed is Gratiot, which three months ago had furnished twelve more than its quota. The Upper Peninsula had furnished three companies of men when the arrangements for the draft were being inaugurated, and reason was given to expect further additions of volunteers from that region, to the full number required. This fact, in connection with the then disturbed state of the frontier counties, led to the omission of any preparation for a draft in that section of the State. Instructions had nevertheless been sent to the county officers to obtain a military census, but at the present date no returns have been received, though there is ground for believing that the duty, in some of them at least, was performed.

The results of the military census, taken under your proclamation of August, are presented in the table below. The total number enrolled by the assessors, and the number of exemptions made, are inclueded in those cases where the information is furnished by the commissioners, in their reports. There is also given in the last column, the number enrolled by the assessors, and returned to this office by the county clerks, in the month of June last, under the requirements of the "Act for the reorganization of the military forces of the State of Michigan," approved January 18, 1862. In cases where the figures are omitted in this column, the counties failed to make returns. The want of uniform rules in the practice of enrolling officers under the State system, as regards persons claiming to be exempt, leads to many irregularities which in future legislation on this subject should be guarded against. In making the enrollment under the late order of the War Department, assessors were required to return the names of all white males between the ages of 18 and 45, leaving claims of exemption, of whatever character, to be determined by the officers appointed for that purpose.

The total population of the counties above enumerated at the census of 1860, was 715,595. The proportion of persons residing therein who are subject to draft is as 1 to 857-1000. The counties which have made no returns are Alcona, Alpena, Chippewa, Delta, Gratiot, Grand Traverse, Houghton (included with Keweenaw in 1860,) Iosco, Leelanaw, Marquette, Manitou, Manistee, Muskegon, Osceola, Oceana, Ontonagon, Presque Isle, and Schoolcraft, and their aggregate population in 1860 was 35,415. The same ratio which rules in the counties from which returns have been received, would produce in the counties last mentioned, a military strength of 4,507, making the aggregate of persons yet remaining in the State between the ages of 18 and 45, and subject to draft for military purposes, 95,578, less the number of volunteers who have enlisted since September 10, 1862.

It is proper, before taking leave of this subject, that an acknowledgment should be made of the fidelity, judgment and industry, with which the Commissioners generally, appointed by you in this State, have performed their laborious and difficult trust. The position is one which necessarily involves much embarrassment, but, as far as the knowledge of this department reaches, it is believed that the duties belonging to it have been performed with a conscientious regard to the interests of the government, of communities, and of individuals.

AGGREGATE OF MICHIGAN TROOPS MUSTERED INTO THE U. S. SERVICE DURING THE WAR.

The various tables and figures which have been presented in this report, furnish the following aggregate of volunteers mustered into the service of the United States, in Regiments, Batteries, &c., known as Michigan organizations, from the beginning of the war to the 23d of December, instant:

Total, including recruits sent to the field before July 1st, 1862,	24,281
"Lancers" and "Hughs' Horse Guards," regularly mustered into the service, but disbanded without leaving the State,	987
Three Regiments Cavalry, ten of Infantry, and one Battery, since July 1st,	13,739
Recruits (including six for nine months) received from July 1st to December 23d,	2,162
Estimated strength of three Regiments Cavalry, two of Infantry, one of Sharp-Shooters, and two Batteries, now organizing in the State,	4,400
Total,	45,569

This does not include volunteers from this State who have gone into the Regiments of other States, to a number known to exceed 1,400. A considerable number of recruits have also been enlisted in the State, during the summer and fall, for the regular army, probably three or four hundred at least. Before the close of the present year, a company of 101 officers and men, already enlisted to serve as Provost Guard at the Barracks in Detroit, will also be mustered into the service of the United States, increasing the aggregate presented above by that amount.

The volunteer force included in the preceding summary, comprises about one-third of the entire military strength of the State.

TROOPS IN PROCESS OF ORGANIZATION.

The Regiments and Batteries now in process of organization, in this State, are:

Twenty-seventh Infantry, Col. D. M. Fox; rendezvous at Port Huron.

Twenty-eighth Infantry, Col. E. Doyle; rendezvous at Ypsilanti.

Seventh Cavalry, Col. W. D. Mann; rendezvous at Grand Rapids.

Eighth Cavalry, Col. John Stockton; rendezvous at Mount Clemens.

Ninth Cavalry, Col. Jas. I. David; rendezvous at Coldwater.

First Michigan Sharp-Shooters, Col. C. V. DeLand; rendezvous at Kalamazoo.

Tenth Battery, Capt. Guenther, in connection with the 7th Cavalry.

Eleventh Battery, Capt. Thompson, in connection with the 8th Cavalry.

It is estimated at the date of this report, Dec. 24, that 4,400 have been enlisted in these organizations.

MICHIGAN TROOPS IN THE FIELD.

Familiar as this Department must necessarily be with the history and the fame of the troops which the State of Michigan has sent to the field, it is not easy to restrict the language in which their services are mentioned to the measured tone of an official document. Taken from the most peaceful avocations of civil life, these men of the plow, the workshops, the counter and the schools, are converted during the vicissitudes of a single campaign, into heroes. No nation has ever witnessed in its armies, even after years of the training which war brings with it, a more marvelous development of soldierly qualities than have already characterized our own troops. Patient in discipline, indefatigable on the march, enduring under privation, fertile in expedient, untiring in the trenches, and ingenious in construction, they have added to all these merits the highest glory which can be won by undaunted valor in the field. There has been scarcely a fortification erected, a bridge built, or a road opened for the use of the national armies, since the war commenced, towards which aid has not been rendered by Michigan volunteers; while every important action has illustrated their heroism, and almost every battle field is consecrated by their blood. They were at Bull Run, and at Ball's Bluff, at Rich Mountain, at Lexington and at Donelson, at Pittsburg Landing, at New Madrid, at New Orleans, at Hilton head, at Wilmington Island, at James Island, at Fort Pulaski, at Baton Rouge, at New Bridge, at Williamsburg, at Fair Oaks, at Hanover Court House, at the Chickahominy, at Gaines' Mills, at Malvern Hill, at Winchester, at Manassas, at Cedar Mountain, at Corinth, at Iuka, at Perryville, at South Mountain, at Antietam, and at Fredericksburgh. They have signalized their devotion to the country's service in Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, South Carolina, Georgia and Maryland; and their reputation is cherished at the hearthstones of every loyal State in the Union. Their services are eagerly sought by all our best Generals, whether to construct a defense, to lead a forlorn hope, or to storm a battery. The history of these times will rear an imperishable monument to the bravery and patriotism of all the States which, in this hour of trial, have enlisted their sons in the conflict, and the honor of one will at all time be among the precious possessions of the others; but it will be for Michigan to cherish with peculiar pride and tenderness the recollections and the fame of the gallant band of patriots, who in the fiercest struggles of modern warfare, and among comrades of equal worth, while vindicating the integrity of the nation at large have reflected undying lustre upon her own escutcheon.

The subjoined sketches of the various Regiments in the field from this State, are intended to furnish an outline merely of the character of their various services. More than this would be impracticable in a report of this nature and at this time. The information furnished is derived mostly from the returns of the Regiments, and where it fails in precision and fullness, it is for want of the data which those returns should contain. No attempt is made to eulogize individual Regiments. Nor is it necessary. The naked record, taken in connection with the history of the war, is of itself an eulogy higher than any which might be attempted by words.

The figures given in connection with the names of officers in each Regiment, indicate the date of commission.

FIRST INFANTRY.

The First Regiment Michigan Infantry, (three years,) organized after the discharge of the first Regiment of three months volunteers, left the State, with the exception of two detachments which soon after followed, on the 16th of September, 1861, having a strength, in officers and men, of 950. Up to the first of July last, 27 recruits had been added to this force. During the winter which followed, the First was encamped at Annapolis Junction, guarding the Baltimore and Washington Railroad. In March it moved to the Peninsula, and has since been in eight engagements, viz: at Mechanicsville, June 26, 1862; at Gaines' Mills, June 27; at Malvern Hill, July 1; at Gainesville, August 29; at Bull Run, August 30; at Antietam, September 17; at Shepardstown Ford, September 20, and at Fredericksburg, December 13 and 14. In the action of Bull Run alone, it lost its Colonel, (Roberts,) Adjutant, four Captains, two Lieutenants, and twenty-one men, in killed, while more than fifty per cent. of the remainder of those who went into battle with it were wounded. At Fredericksburg, the losses were one officer and seven men killed, and seven officers and thirty-three men wounded. The alternations and casualties in this regiment, from its organization to the 1st of November, 1862, were as follows:

SECOND INFANTRY.

This Regiment left Detroit on the 5th of June, 1861—the first of the three years' Regiments in the field from this State—with an aggregate force on its muster rolls of 1,013, to which 102 had been added previous to the 1st of July. Its first engagement was at Blackburn's Ford, Va., July 18th, 1861. During the winter it lay near Alexandria, Va., and in March was moved under McClellan to the Virginia Peninsula. It took part in the siege of Yorktown; in engagements at Williamsburgh, May 5th; at Fair Oaks, May 27th; at Charles City Cross Roads, June 30; at Malvern Hill, July 1; and at Chantilly, September 1. Its casualties at Williamsburgh were 17 killed, 38 wounded, and 4 missing; at Fair Oaks, 10 killed and 47 wounded.

Major General Israel B. Richardson, who entered the service in this war as commanding officer of the 2d, when it was organized, died in October last, of wounds received in the battle of Antietam, in which he commanded a division of Union forces.

On the 30th of November the aggregate of the Second Infantry, present and absent, was 642. It is in Burns' Division of the ninth army corps of the army of the Potomac, and its officers are:

THIRD INFANTRY.

This Regiment left Grand Rapids for the seat of war on the Potomac, June 13, 1861, having upon its muster rolls the names of 1040 officers and enlisted men. There had been 123 added to this number on the first of July, 1862. The Third was in action at Blackburn's Ford, July 18, 1861. It encamped last winter near Alexandria, with the Second and Fifth, forming part of the same brigade, and was moved to the Peninsula in March where it served to the conclusion of that campaign. It fought at Williamsburg, May 5th, at Fair Oaks, May 30, at Glendale, (or Charles City Cross Roads,) June 30, at Malvern Hill, July 1, and at Groveton, (or Bull Run,) August 29 Its losses at Fair Oaks were 30 killed, 124 wounded, and 15 missing; at Bull Run 20 killed, and a large number wounded and missing. Its last return showed an aggregate for the 30th of November, of 669, present and absent. It is in Birney's Division of Stoneman's corps of the army of the Potomac, and has for its officers:

Stephen G. Champlin, Colonel, Oct. 28, 1861.			Silas M. Pelton, 1st Lieut.,	Jan. 2,	1862.

FOURTH INFANTRY.

The Fourth left its rendezvous at Adrian June 25, 1861, numbering a force of 1,025. On the 1st of July last, it had carried on its rolls the names of 1,156 officers and enlisted men. It took part in the movements connected with the first battle at Bull Run, July 21, 1861, and aided largely, as did also the 2d, 3d and 5th, in the construction of the defenses of Washington. It encamped during last winter at Miner's Hill, Va. The regiment formed part of Gen. McClellan's Peninsula army, and was engaged at New Bridge, May 24, at Mechanicsville, June 26, at Gaines' Mills, June 27, and at Malvern, July 1, in the latter action losing its Colonel, (Woodbury,) who fell at the head of his regiment. The loss of the Fourth during the actions of June and July was 35 killed, 144 wounded, and 52 missing. At Shepardstown Ford, Sept. 21, it forded the Potomac in face of a battery, killed and drove off the enemy, and captured the guns. The regiment was also in the battles at Fredericksburg, December 13 and 14, where its casualties were 9 killed, 41 wounded and 1 missing. It forms part of Griffin's Division of Butterfield's corps of the army of the Potomac. On the 30th of November its aggregate was 753 The officers are:

FIFTH INFANTRY.

This Regiment originally mustered into service with about 900 officers and men, had carried 983 names on its rolls prior to the first of July last. It left Detroit for Virginia on the 11th of September, 1861. It lay in camp near Alexandria during the winter, and went with Gen. McClellan to the Peninsula in March. The regiment was hotly engaged in the battle of Williamsburg, May 5th, its casualties, in a force of 500, being 34 killed and 119 wounded. At Fair Oaks, May 31, where it went into action with a force of about 300, it lost 30 killed, 119 wounded and 5 missing. It was again engaged on the 30th of June, at Charles City Cross Roads, losing 5 killed, 28 wounded, and 18 missing. It had part also in the action at Malvern Hill, July 1st, with slight loss. It was employed as skirmishers at Manassas, August 30, and at Chantilly, Sept. 2d. It went into action at Fredericksburg, Dec. 13th, with a strength of 230, losing 10 killed, and 73 wounded, the only commissioned officer killed being its commander, Lt. Col. Gilluly. In the casualties of the regiment there have been:

Died of disease,	53
" wounds,	15
Killed in action,	80
Missing in action,	20
Wounded in action,	351
Discharged for disability,	167
Deserted,	23
Dropped from Rolls,	184
Officers resigned,	13

The present strength of the regiment, present and absent, is 557. It is in General Stoneman's Division of the army of the Potomac, and has for its commissioned officers:

SIXTH INFANTRY.

The Sixth Infantry left Kalamazoo, for the Potomac, August 30th, 1861, its muster rolls showing a force of 944. On the 1st of July its returns showed that 1074 officers and enlisted men had been carried on its rolls. It was in camp at Baltimore during most of the winter, sailed thence for Ship Island, Mississippi, and thence on the 14th of April, 1862, embarked for New Orleans, being one of the first regiments to occupy that city after its capture by the Union forces. On the 15th of May it proceeded up the Mississippi as far as Warrenton, landing on the route at different points to aid in the destruction of the enemy's works and communications, and returned to Baton Rouge on the 5th of June. It bore an active part in the battle of Baton Rouge, August 5th, sustaining a loss of 16 killed, 46 wounded, and 6, including one officer, missing. The casualties and alterations in this Regiment, from its organization to November 1, 1862, were as follows:

Killed in action, (Baton Rouge,)	16

SEVENTH INFANTRY.

The Seventh Infantry left Monroe for Virginia, on the 5th of September, 1861, its muster rolls showing the names of 884 officers and enlisted men. On the 1st of July it returned 1098 names which had appeared on its records. The Regiment lay on the Upper Potomac during the winter, and was engaged in the disastrous action at Ball's Bluff. It followed McClellan to the Peninsula in the Spring, and sustained severe loss in the battles of that campaign. It also participated in the Maryland actions; at the battle of Antietam, it is unofficially reported, more than half its force engaged was disabled. At the capture of Fredericksburg, December 13, it volunteered to dislodge the rebel sharp-shooters who were impeding the construction of the bridges, crossed the Rappahannock for that purpose in small boats, was the first of the Union forces to land on the opposite bank, and with the aid of a Massachusetts regiment drove the enemy from their hiding places with much slaughter, capturing nearly as many prisoners as they numbered themselves. Only three monthly returns have been received from the Seventh since it went into active service, the last being for January, and no definite data can, therefore, be given concerning its condition. It is much reduced in numbers, and forms part of Gen. Hooker's Grand Division of the Army of the Potomac, its officers being as follows:

Norman J. Hall,	Colonel,	July 7,	1862.
Henry Baxter,	Lt. "	May 22,	"

EIGHTH INFANTRY.

This Regiment moved from Detroit September 27th, 1861, with an aggregate force of 915, to which 84 recruits had been added previous to the 1st of July. At Annapolis, October 19th, it embarked as a part of the expedition to Hilton Head, South Carolina, under General Sherman. Since that time it has seen a large amount of active service, and has participated in nine engagements, occurring in four different States, viz: At Hilton Head, November 7th, 1861; at Port Royal Ferry, South Carolina, January 1st, 1862; at Fort Pulaski, Georgia, April 14th, 1862; at Wilmington Island, Georgia, April 16th, 1862; at James Island, South Carolina, June 16th, 1862; at Bull Run, Virginia, August 29th and 30th, 1862; at Chantilly, Virginia, September 1st, 1862; at South Mountain, Maryland, September 14th, 1862; and at Antietam, Maryland, September 17th, 1862. Its casualties at Wilmington Island, were 11 killed, and 33 wounded, (3 mortally); at James Island, 13 killed, 97 wounded, 35 missing, and 35 taken prisoners. The alterations in the Regiment from its organization to the 31st of October, were as follows:

Number of men discharged,*	260
Died of Disease,	55
Killed in battle, or died of wounds received in action,	89
Wounded in action,	243

* Exactly 100 of these were discharged on account of their enlistment in the regular service.

NINTH INFANTRY.

The 9th Infantry left Detroit for Kentucky October 25th, 1861, the first regiment from Michigan to enter upon active service in the Western Departments. Its muster-in-rolls exhibited a force of 913, and 73 had been added previous to the 1st of July, 1862. The regiment suffered largely from sickness almost immediately upon its going into service. It formed part of the force under General Negley, which made a demonstration on Chattanooga, in June last, and the 13th of July, four companies, under command of its Major, being at Tullahoma, the remaining six companies, with other troops, were attacked by a large hostile force at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and after a sharp struggle, taken prisoners, with a loss of 13 killed, and 78 wounded. The wounded officers and the enlisted men were at once paroled, and they, together with the remaining officers, have recently been exchanged. The headquarters of the Regiment and about 450 of its men are at or near Nashville, in General Thomas' Division of General Rosecrans' army, and paroled stragglers are rapidly rejoining the Regiment, which is supposed to retain an aggregate of between five and six hundred. No monthly returns have been received since that for March. Its officers are:

TWELFTH INFANTRY.

The Twelfth Infantry, which had been in rendezvous at Niles, moved thence on the 18th of March last, taking the route to St. Louis. Its Regimental muster-in-rolls showed the names of 1,000 officers and enlisted men, and 51 had been added to that number previous to the 1st of July. From St. Louis it was hurried forward to the Tennessee River, and reached Pittsburgh Landing in time to take part in the important action which was fought at that place on the 6th and 7th of April. It also participated in the battle of Matamora, on the Hatchie River, Oct. 5th, 1862, and at the battle of Iuka it performed picket duty near the field of action. The casualties reported since the organization of the regiment are:

Killed in action,	26

THIRTEENTH INFANTRY.

This regiment left Kalamazoo, its rendezvous, on the 12th of February last, 925 strong. Enlistments previous to the 1st of July added 74 to its numbers. Its route was through Kentucky and Tennessee, via Bowling Green and Nashville. It reached the battle field at Pittsburgh Landing, after a forced march, near the close of the second day's fight, and thenceforward until the evacuation of Corinth, was engaged in picket and fatigue duty with the forces that captured that post. The Thirteenth was the last of Gen. Buell's command to leave northeastern Alabama, on the withdrawal of our forces from that region in August, and was among the troops of the same army which fell back upon Louisville. It joined in the pursuit of Bragg's army in October, and at the date of its last report, (Nov. 14,) was stationed near Silver Springs, Tennessee, forming part of the army under Gen. Rosecrans. The casualties of the Thirteenth, since its organization to Oct. 31, were as follows:

Died of disease, officers,	1
" " men,	70
Officers resigned,	7
Number of men discharged,	120
" " wounded,	6
" " taken prisoners,	10

SIXTEENTH INFANTRY.

The 16th, originally known as Stockton's Independent Regiment, went into the field on the 16th of September, 1861, with an aggregate of 761. On the first of July its records had borne the names of 1002 officers and enlisted men. Encamped during the winter at Hall's Hill, Va., it moved to the Peninsula, under McClellan, in March, shared in the siege of Yorktown, in April, and participated in the severe engagements at Hanover Court House, May 27, at Gaines' Mills, June 27, and at Malvern Hill, July 1. In August it joined Pope's army at Fredericksburg, fought at Bull Run, Aug. 30, and at the battle of Antietam was posted in support of the line of artillery, though not actually engaged. Its casualties at Gaines' Mills were 3 officers and forty-six enlisted men killed, 6 officers and 110 enlisted men wounded, 2 officers and 53 enlisted men missing—a total of 220; at Malvern, 2 men killed, 1 officer and 36 men wounded, and three men missing—total 42; at Bull Run, (or Manassas,) 3 officers and 13 men killed, 4 officers and 59 men wounded, and 17 missing—total 96. Its aggregate, present and absent, Oct. 31, was 742. It composes part of Griffin's Division, in Butterfield's corps, of the army of the Potomac, and participated with that corps in the actions at Fredericksburg, December 13 and 14, losing 3 killed, 30 wounded, and 8 missing. Its officers are:

SEVENTEENTH INFANTRY.

The Seventeenth Infantry was the first of the new regiments to leave the State under the last call of the President for volunteers. It was in rendezvous at Detroit, whence it moved on the 27th of August, on its route to Washington, with a force, as exhibited by its rolls, of 982 officers and enlisted men. It was sent immediately into the Maryland campaign, under Gen. McClellan, and in little more than two weeks after it left the State, was fiercely engaged in the hotly contested action of South Mountain, whence it emerged with a loss of 27 killed and 114 wounded. Three days afterwards, at Antietam, it was again in battle, sustaining a further loss of 18 killed and 87 wounded. The next day it was in the front, skirmishing with the retreating enemy, and had one man killed. On the 30th November its casualties had been:

Died in action or of wounds,	47
Died of Disease,	18
Wounded in action,	201
Missing in action,	2
Discharged,	34
Deserted,	44
Officers resigned,	2

Its aggregate on that date was 765, present and absent. It is in General Burns' Division of the 9th corps of the army of the Potomac. The list of officers is as follows:

EIGHTEENTH INFANTRY.

The 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22d and 23d Regiments of Infantry, were raised under the President's late call, by the separate action of the Congressional Districts in the State, each District furnishing a regiment. The county of Wayne having undertaken to raise one in addition, the 18th was filled by volunteers from the counties of Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe, composing the remainder of the First District. Its rendezvous was at Hillsdale, and for the purpose of organization the camp was placed in charge of Hon. Henry Waldron. On the 4th of September the regiment left Hillsdale under orders to report at Cincinnati, with a force on its muster rolls of 1002 officers and enlisted men. On the 31st of October it had lost:

Died of disease,	7
Discharged,	3
Deserted,	6
Taken prisoners (on picket at Snow's Pond, Ky., Sept. 23d,)	50

Its aggregate on same date was 969. It is at Lexington, in General Gilmore's Division of the army of the Ohio, and has for officers:

FIRST ENGINEERS AND MECHANICS.

This Regiment left its rendezvous at Marshall on the 17th of December, 1861, for Louisville, with an aggregate force of 1032. Most of the varied service performed by it has been done by detachments, the Regiment having been more or less separated most of the time since it entered upon duty. One of these detachments, under General O. M. Mitchell, comprised the first Union troops to enter Bowling Green after its evacuation by the enemy; another was at the battle of Chaplain Hills. The Regiment has been employed in the repair or re-opening of railroads between Nashville and Chattanooga, Nashville and Columbia, Corinth and Decatur, Huntsville and Stevenson, and Memphis and Charleston, and has twice assisted in re-opening the road from Nashville to Louisville. During the month of June alone, it built seven bridges on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, each from 84 to 340 feet in length, (in the aggregate 2,758 feet,) and from 12 to 56 feet in height. After the battle of Pittsburg Landing it was engaged eight weeks in the construction of steamboat landings and crossings, with only one day's rest. The casualties to the 31st of October had been as follows:

Died of disease,	75
" wounds received in action,	2
Killed in action,	1
Wounded in action,	17
Discharged,	124

Taken prisoners, ... 15
Deserted, ... 20
Recruits, ... 67

The aggregate, present and absent, Nov. 30, was 879. Serious difficulties have existed in the regiment, growing out of a misunderstanding as to pay of the men, it having been found after their organization that there was no law by which they could receive the pay which had been expected. This defect is now remedied, and it is reported, unofficially, that at the last muster of the Regiment, all present were paid to the first of November. The Regiment is now re-organized under a late act of Congress, allowing to it twelve companies of 150 men each to form three battallions, with a Major at the head of each. Half the men, ranking as artificers, receive pay at the rate of $17 per month, and the others draw regular Infantry pay, $13.

This Regiment is now at Edgefield, Tennessee, and reports directly to Gen. Rosecrans. Its officers are:

SECOND CAVALRY.

This Regiment, organized by Hon. F. W. Kellogg, at Grand Rapids, left its camp at that place, on the 14th of November, 1861, and took its route to St. Louis. Its muster in rolls contained 1,163 names, and its returns show that to the 1st of July there had belonged to it 1,200 officers and enlisted men. It was stationed during the winter, at Benton Barracks, St. Louis, leaving there in March to take part in the operations at and about New Madrid and Island No. Ten. In May and June it was at Farmington, Miss., and remained in that State until ordered to Louisville, in October. It has been actively employed in usual cavalry service, and has done a large amount of scouting and skirmishing. On the 31st of October the Regiment had an aggregate of 794. Its last communication to this Department was dated at New Market, Ky., November 11. The officers of the Second Cavalry are:

FIFTH CAVALRY.

This Regiment was organized under the authority given by the War Department and the Governor to Col. J. T. Copeland, then in the First Cavalry. Its organization began in July, and it was mustered into service, as a regiment, on the 30th of August, at its rendezvous in Detroit. The Regiment was subjected to a long delay in procuring its arms and equipments, and left the State only partly armed, but fully equipped, mounted and clothed, on the fourth of the present month, for Washington. A number of men were lost by desertion previous to its departure, and its rolls show that up to that period it had carried the names of 1,305 officers and men. A battery of Light Artillery was raised in connection with this regiment, which is classed as the Ninth Michigan Battery. The Fifth Cavalry is is in the army of the Potomac, and its officers are:

MERRILL HORSE.

The "Merrill Horse" is the name by which is recognized a body of cavalry known as a Missouri Regiment, two companies of which, (I and H,) were raised in this State, and have retained their distinctive character so far that the officers are commissioned here, and recruits are still drawn from and credited to the State. The Regiment has been in service in Missouri. An additional company (L,) has been recruited here during the last few weeks. The officers of the three commpanies are:

Co. I.—James B. Mason, Captain, Sept. 6, 1861. Joseph B. Cessna, 1st Lt., Sept. 6, 1861.
H. M. Rowe, 2d Lt., Sept. 6, 1861.

Co. H.—Jabez H. Rogers, Captain, Aug. 20, 1861. ——— ——— 1st Lieut.
George H. Rowell, 2d Lt., Aug. 20, 1861.

Co. L.—Almon E. Preston, Captain, Dec. 17, 1862. Edwin J. Dickenson, 1st Lt., Dec. 17, '62.
Charles D. Root, 2d Lt., Dec. 17, 1862.

FIRST BATTERY, (LOOMIS'.)

The First Battery of Michigan Artillery was organized at Coldwater, and left for the field of war in Western Virginia, on the first of June, 1861. It took into service six brass six-pounders and complete equipments, all furnished by the State. It went through Gen. McClellan's early campaigns in Western Virginia, and has been in general engagements at Greenbriar, Rich Mountain, and Elkwater, Va., was in the advance, in the route of the rebels from Bowling Green, and saved the right wing of the Union army from being flanked in the important action at Perryville, Ky. The battery has, besides, been engaged in a great number of skirmishes. The men, in addition to their duty as artillerists, have been trained to cavalry service, and are armed with Sharpe's rifles. The Battery has now six Parrott guns, ten-pounders, and is near Nashville. The want of late monthly returns prevents a report of its condition. Its officers are:

Cyrus O. Loomis,* Captain, May 28, 1861.

——— ——— 1st Lieutenant. Geo. W. Van Pelt, 2d Lieut., Oct. 6, 1861.

——— ——— " Francis E. Hale, " July 30, 1862.

SECOND BATTERY, (ROSS'.)

The Second Battery organized in this State, was raised at Grand Rapids, in connection with the Second Cavalry. It left the State on the 17th of December, 1861, clothed and mounted, but without guns. The Battery was at the battle of Pittsburg Landing, April 6, and was cut off from its Infantry support by the enemy's cavalry, losing four of its six pieces, and 60 officers and men taken prisoners. The remaining section has since been connected with a Missouri battery, but the Company has recently recruited with good success, and has been ordered into the field again in Western Tennessee, where it will soon have, if it has not already been supplied with, a new battery of guns. Its officers are:

William H. Ross, Captain, January 26, 1862.

Albert F. Arndt, 1st Lieut., Jan. 26, 1862. Edward B. Wright, 2d Lieut., Aug. 28, 1862.

Cuthbert W. Laing, " July 4, " Bronson C. Meddaugh, " " "

THIRD BATTERY, (DEES'.)

This Battery, raised in connection with the Third Cavalry, left its rendezvous at Grand Rapids, December 17, 1861. It was engaged in the siege of Corinth, May, 1862, in the battles at Iuka, September 17th and 19th, and aided in the repulse of the enemy at Corinth, October 14. It has lost by deaths from disease, 13; death from wounds, 1; discharges 15; desertions 4; missing in action 3. Its force on the 30th November, was 108. It is now in West Tennessee, and its officers are:

George Robinson, Captain, November 20, 1862.

Carl A. Lamberg, 1st Lieut., Dec. 6, 1861. ——— ——— 2d Lieutenant.

William H. Sinclair, " July 15, 1862. ——— ——— "

FOURTH BATTERY, (BIDWELL'S, NOW CHURCH'S.)

This Battery was organized in connection with the Eleventh Infantry. It left the State December 9, 1861, taking the route to Kentucky. No returns have been received from it since it went into the field, and this department has no knowledge of its history or condition. It is near Nashville, and its officers are:

*This officer has a Colonel's commission, but continues in command of his Battery.

Josiah W. Church, Captain, August 2, 1862.

Henry B. Corbin, 1st Lieut., June 20, 1862. Daniel W. Sawyer, 2d Lieut., Aug. 2, 1862.
Edward S. Wheat, " " " Jesse B. Fuller, " Sept. 24, 1862.

FIFTH BATTERY, (DENNIS' OR ELY'S.)

The 5th Battery was organized with the 1st Mechanics and Engineers, at Marshall. It moved thence December 17th, 1861, and has been in service in the Western Departments. The entire absence of returns from it makes it impossible to furnish any details. It is at Nashville, and its list of officers is subjoined:

John S. Ely, Captain, June 9, 1862.

Peter De Vries, 1st Lieut., June 9, 1862. Squair M. Armsted, 2d Lieut., July 1, 1862.
——— ——— " Leonard Wightman, " Oct. 1, "

SIXTH BATTERY, (ANDREWS'.)

This Battery organized at Coldwater, and left the State for service March 3d, 1862. It was for some months in garrison at West Point, Kentucky. At the battle of Richmond, Kentucky, its Infantry supports having failed, the Battery was cut off by the enemy and its guns were captured. It is now near Louisville, Kentucky. On the 31st of October the Company had 85, present and absent. The officers are:

——— ——— Captain.

Luther F. Hale, 1st Lieut., Oct. 15, 1861. Byron D. Paddock, 2d Lieut., July 1, 1862.
Norman S. Andrews, " " " George Holbrook, " Sept. 1, "

SEVENTH BATTERY, (LAMPHERE'S.)

The 7th Battery was organized with the 13th Infantry, at Kalamazoo. It left the State on the 12th of February last, and has seen its principal service in Kentucky. There are no returns from it. The officers are:

Charles H. Lamphere, Captain, Oct. 3, 1861.

Robert M. Wilder, 1st Lieut. Edwin E. Lewis, 2d Lieut., June 6, 1862.
James H. Burdick, " June 6, 1862. Alanson Conkling, " Nov. 21, "

EIGHTH BATTERY, (DE GOLYER'S.)

The 8th Battery had its rendezvous at Monroe, in connection with the 15th Infantry. It left that place on the 13th of March, with orders to report to General Halleck, at St. Louis. The battery was stationed during the summer at New Madrid, Missouri, and is supposed to be now in West Tennessee. Its officers are:

Samuel De Golyer, Captain, March 11, 1862.
William H. Whissen, 1st Lt., March 10, '62. Stephen P. Savory, 2d Lieut., March 6, 1862.
Theodore W. Lockwood, " Edmund M. Luce, " June 19, "

NINTH BATTERY, (DANIELS'.)

This is the first battery raised in the State under the recent calls of the President, and the only one that has yet taken the field. It was organized in conjunction with the 5th Cavalry, and left with that Regiment for Washington on the 4th of the present month, taking with it a complete equipment, and a full battery of guns, four parrotts and two howitzers. The following are its officers:

J. J. Daniels, Captain, Aug. 14, 1862.
Addison N. Kidder, 1st Lieut., Aug. 14, 1862. L. R. Gage, 2d Lieut., Aug. 14, 1862.
L. R. Smith, " " " T. J. Limbrocker, " " "

SHARP-SHOOTERS.

The State has six companies of Sharp-Shooters in the service, of which three belong to the 1st Regiment U. S. Sharp-Shooters, Colonel Berdan. They were in action at Hanover Court House, in the seven days' fighting before Richmond, and in the more recent battles near Washington, and have done a large amount of duty on outpost, and as skirmishers. Their regiment is in Hooker's Grand Division of the army of the Potomac. The officers of the Michigan companies are:

Co. C.—James H. Baker, Captain, Aug. 30, 1862. Byron Brewer, 1st Lt., Aug. 30, 1862.
John R. Wirts, 2d Lt., Aug. 30, 1862.
Co. I.——— ——— Captain. J. F. Covel, 1st Lt., March 5, 1862.
Henry C. Garrison, 2d Lt., Oct. 28, 1862.
Co. K.—William H. Nash, Captain, July 7, 1862. Thomas Connington, 1st Lt., Sept. 27,'62.
C. W. Thorpe, 2d Lt., October 11, 1862.

There is also a Michigan company in the 2d U. S. Sharp-Shooters. It has been mostly in the corps of McDowell and Pope, in the campaigns on the Potomac. Its officers are:

——— ——— ——— Captain. Adolphus A. Guest, 1st Lt., Sept. 23, '62.
George Morton, 2d Lt., September 23, 1862.

A similar company is attached to the 16th Michigan Infantry, and has shared in the history and campaigns of that regiment. Its officers are:

Kin S. Dygert, Captain, Sept. 3, 1861. John A. McNeil, 1st Lt., Sept. 3, 1861.
Jonas H. Titus, 2d Lt., September 3, 1861.

The remaining company of Michigan Sharp-Shooters in the field, forms part of a regiment known as the "Western Sharp-Shooters" It had a share in the capture of Fort Donelson, and was at the battle of Shiloh, at the siege of Corinth, and in various skirmishes. The officers are:

——— ——— ——— Captain. Stephen W. Duncombe, 1st Lt., June 11, 1862.
George W. Lusk, 2d Lt., June 11, 1862.

It will not be improper to repeat here, that if any facts, as regards any regiment, have been omitted in the preceding sketches, which ought to have been embraced therein, it is owing to the insufficiency of the returns from the regiment itself. The blank forms of the regular "Monthly Returns," which are required to be made to headquarters, if filled according to the instructions printed on them, will furnish a complete record, not only of the regiment, but of every man in it. Commanding officers fail in duty both to their men individually and to their commands, if they permit any neglect in furnishing this office a copy of each of these returns, as regularly as it goes to headquarters. A great improvement has taken place during the year in the manner in which this duty is discharged by the Michigan regiments, most of whom now send in their returns with reasonable promptness, though a more observant regard, on the part of some of them, to the printed directions, would lead to a greater particularity in the record of individuals, and more abundant data concerning the movements and service of the regiments.

The names of officers presented above are taken from the books of this Department. It is known that some changes have taken place, but as vacancies cannot be safely recorded until officially notified, no entry has yet been made of them.

Condition of Michigan Regiments in the Field at date of their last Monthly Returns.

The table which is appended shows the condition, in figures, of the Michigan regiments in the field at the date of their last monthly returns, in the cases of those whose returns are sufficiently recent to be useful. The 5th and 6th Cavalry, and 26th Infantry, having left the State during the present month, of course are not included. The three Batteries added are all which have sent returns. It should be noted that the figures in the column of "Absent with leave," include prisoners, and those on parole. The 8th Infantry designates 38, and the 3d Cavalry 36, of the former, and the 18th Infantry reports 50, and the 4th Cavalry 27, on parole. The columns of "sick," comprise the wounded also. The fact of so many being in arrest in the Engineers and Mechanics, grew out of the difficulties connected with the rate of pay, elsewhere referred to. It is understood that the men will soon be, if they have not already been, released. Officers and men are included in the figures of each regiment:

STANTON GUARD.

Discharged.

Captain Grover S. Wormer, mustered out Sept. 25, 1862.
First Lieut. Elias F. Sutton, mustered out Sept. 25, 1862.
Second Lieut. Lewis Hartmeyer, mustered out Sept. 25, 1862.

It has been found impracticable, at this time, to add to the foregoing the list of casualties among enlisted men. Untiring efforts are made by this Department to secure a complete record of every man in the service from Michigan; and it is intended to incorporate this record in a future Report.

COUNTY LISTS OF VOLUNTEERS.

At the extra session of the Legislature, held in January last, a joint resolution was passed, (p. 64, Laws of 1862,) directing the Adjutant General of the State, "on or before the first day of October, to make and transmit to the county clerk of each county in this State, a correct list of the persons mustered into the service of the United States, or of this State, from such county, giving so far as practicable the name, date of enlistment, company, regiment, whether married or unmarried; also the number that have died in battle, or from sickness, or wounds in battle, and the names of those that have been discharged or have deserted; and that additional lists shall annually, at the time aforesaid, be transmitted, giving the mustering of the current year, together with the deaths, discharges or desertions, as the case may be."

Early in June, measures were adopted to carry into effect the requirements of this resolution. The ordinary records of enlistment furnish no information of the residence of the volunteer, and it became necessary to procure it, as regards those already in service, from the Regiments in the field. The difficulty and delay attending this labor, especially in such a period of active service as existed during the summer months, will be readily understood; but after persistent effort—one Regiment having been supplied with blank forms four times, and several others two or three times each—returns were secured from all the Regiments, and from most of the Batteries. These returns were made on blanks printed for the purpose, and forwarded from this Department, with necessary instructions, and their correctness is verified by the commanding officers of companies.

Before the receipt of any of these returns, the State was called upon to furnish an additional force of 11,686 volunteers, and this was soon followed by a requisition of a like number under a draft. It was deemed expedient to postpone the completion of the county lists ordered by the resolution referred to, until the new Regiments could be added to them, especially as the delay in procuring returns from the Regiments in the field would prevent anything like completeness, should an attempt be made to forward the lists at as early a period as was contemplated. The immense amount of labor thrown upon this office by the new calls, also aided to make this postponement necessary. Special rolls, exhibiting the residence of the new volunteers, were prepared for them before leaving the State, and the result was to obtain as complete a record of the facts desired by the Legislature as could be procured.

The statistics thus obtained, both from the old and new regiments, have been carefully collated and arranged for transmission to the county clerks. Separate books have been prepared for the several counties, (except those whose limited population rendered books unnecessary, in which cases sheets have been used,) and the lists have been fully completed, and will be forwarded, as directed, within a few days, or as soon as copies of them shall have been perfected for record in this Department. They comprise all the officers and men who had been connected with the old regiments up to the 1st of July last, and all of the new regiments which have yet left the State, including 26 regiments of Infantry, 6 of Cavalry, 1 of Mechanics and Engineers, 9 batteries of Artillery, a squadron of Horse, 6 companies of Sharp-Shooters, 1 independent company, and a Michigan company in the Mulligan brigade—a total of 37,432 men. All of these, except 1,273, whose residence was not reported, have been placed in separate county lists, together with their rank, company, regiment, the date of their enrollment, the fact of their being married or unmarried, and a great mass of information, showing the deaths, discharges, desertions and resignations among them, the men in each company and regiment being classed separately.

It can hardly be expected that these lists are perfectly accurate. In the case of the old regiments, the casualties of months or a year of active service had taken from the ranks hundreds of men whose names were on the rolls, and whose residence it was sought to determine. In the cases of all of them, a trifling carelessness on the part of the officers entrusted with the duty, or any one of a score of accidents which are peculiar to military service, might occasion an erroneous return which it was out of the power of this Department to correct. But it is believed, nevertheless, that in view of the difficult character of the duty imposed, the lists are as nearly perfect as it was possible to make them. They are certainly as much so as the most critical circumspection, and the most laborious effort, could achieve. And in the results, as exhibited by the books containing the lists, the counties of the State will possess a most important record, not only useful as regards immediate benefits to families of volunteers, but invaluable as written memorials of the times to the generations which are to come after us.

The duty of procuring, collating, classifying and perfecting these lists, has involved many months of continuous and devoted labor, but the general result is exhibited in a table which will be found at the end of this Report, showing the "Number of Volunteers furnished by each county in the State to the Michigan regiments, batteries, &c."

It may be expedient to state that each company officer was especially instructed in the preparation of the returns which form the basis of these lists, to determine the residence of his men, and the question of their being married or unmarried, by direct interrogatories to the men themselves, wherever it was practicable.

GENERAL REMARKS.

A system has been adopted in this Department for the purpose of obtaining and preserving a perfect record and history of every regiment and individual in the service from this State, which, if carried out, will secure, for future information to the State and benefit to each, their history during the present war, and may be of much service to individuals in the future settlement of their claims for bounties and other allowances, between themselves or their families and the general government, but this cannot be accomplished without full returns and reports are promptly and regularly made, embracing all changes by resignation, death, desertion, or in any other way affecting the interests of members of regiments. Although every effort has been made to obtain this desired and important information, some regiments have failed to give it fully. The officers in command of regiments failing to do this, cannot be said to discharge their duty to their regiments as regards their history and reputation, nor to the individuals composing them. There are numerous enquiries made daily at this Department by deeply interested friends which cannot be answered for want of official information. Could officers appreciate the necessity for fully performing this duty, it is thought that they would cheerfully do so. All absent from the State in service, must know the anxiety of their friends at home concerning them, and every means possible should be used to make this Department full and prompt returns. While officers may do their whole duty in garrison and in the field, and acquire a reputation for the faithful performance of all the most prominent duties of their profession, they may leave undone many of the minor duties and obligations they owe to their men, and thereby inflict upon them hardships which a little care and attention might relieve them from. When a Captain leaves the State with a company of men, they recognize in him their commander, counsellor, and friend; they look to him for the protection of all their rights guaranteed them by the government, to see that they are all properly clothed, provisioned, and paid, that they are properly placed in hospital when sick, and properly cared for when there; that when soldiers are left by their regiments, while on the march, or otherwise, in a hospital, a record should be made of their names, and where left, and full descriptive lists, and accounts of their pay and clothing, left with, or sent to the Surgeon in charge as soon as possible, so that they will be enabled to draw their pay from any Paymaster in the service, when an opportunity offers. This has been a duty neglected to a very great extent, and much suffering by sick and disabled soldiers has been the consequence. Thousands of men have been placed in hospitals all over the land, without a paper to identify them with any company or regiment in the service, and therefore, while enduring the misfortune of being sick while away from their regiments and homes, have endured the hardships of being penniless, while the government was largely indebted to them, and this not in many cases the fault of the government, but of those whose duty it was to have given them the necessary papers to have entitled them to their pay. This neglect has become so general, that much suffering has been the result. All officers should adopt the rule, to demand and require strict obedience to orders, enforce correct discipline, the execution of which will always be aided much by attending strictly to the wants of their men. If officers will faithfully perform the duties they owe to their men, the men, as a general thing, will perform the duties required of them by their officers and their country.

The system adopted and carried out by your Excellency, of promotion from the ranks to fill vacancies in the lower grade of commissioned officers after the regiments have left the State, is right and just. While numberless applications have been made, and influences used to break this rule, it has been invariably adhered to, except in a very few cases where it has been found necessary to secure recruits for some particular regiment, when it was deemed advisable, in order to obtain the men, to give a commission to some one as a reward for his services and expense in raising them. This rule of promotion, while it has done justice to many deserving enlisted men, and rewarded many acts of bravery and good conduct, has secured to the regiments a class of experienced officers identified with regiments from their organization, having a perfect knowledge of their men, and possessing their entire confidence as to their ability to command. This rule of promotion encourages a good morale in regiments, and induces a greater proportion of intelligent men to enter the service, having in view the fact that there is no bar to their promotion, if deserving.

Promotion from the ranks in any army should be encouraged and fostered, and so far as practicable made the rule. Where this rule is excluded, the good and deserving soldier's prospects are blighted and the profession of the soldier itself degraded. The intelligent and loyal soldier, when he enters his name upon the rolls of his company, has a right to expect that he may attain the highest position in his company or regiment, by faithful and gallant services rendered his country.

As regards promotion in higher grades, while your Excellency has generally been guided by rank, and promotions have usually been made according to seniority, yet this has not been adopted as a fixed rule. Although it is just and proper in promotions, to recognize seniority in rank where qualifications are equal, yet it is equally just and proper to recognize merit as against seniority when qualifications are unequal. This, while it distributes justice, and encourages proficiency in the profession, secures to the regiments the best and most competent officers.

Promotions in the regiments from this State, in the field, have generally been made upon the recommendation of the officer commanding the regiment, and have invariably been made judiciously and justly. This is the only true way of arriving at the proper deserts and qualifications of each officer, respectively.

The appointments of officers of the line in the new regiments have, from necessity, mostly been made from the localities in which the companies were raised. This necessity has resulted from the fact, that in order to get the men, the officers had to be taken with them. It would have been preferable to have selected from the old regiments a large proportion of the officers, thereby giving to the new regiments the benefit of their experience, but this was found to be impracticable to any great extent, although in most regiments a sufficient number of officers from the old regiments, and those who have seen service, has been so distributed among them as to be of much service in their organization, drill and discipline. And although it has been a necessity, in this State, to appoint many inexperienced officers, yet they have been men of intelligence, and very soon learn the duties of officers, and as a whole, will compare favorably with the officers of any other State. The field officers of most of these regiments have been promoted from the old regiments, and have been of much service in getting them to the field in a very good condition of drill and discipline.

The appointment of so many inexperienced officers to regiments for a time makes them less efficient, and is often the cause of more sickness among their men than when officered by men of more experience, from the fact that they are unaccustomed to camp life, and are deficient in knowledge of the best way of providing for them, and obtaining all the necessaries allowed by the government for their service, and of properly using them after they have received them. To the neglect or incapacity of company officers, in not properly inspecting and seeing that the provisions of their companies are well cooked and served to their men, is to be attributed a great deal of the sickness with which new regiments are visited during the first six months of their service. No captain or officer in command of a company fully does his duty who neglects the inspection of the rations of his company when drawn from the commissary, nor the inspection of every meal, when practicable, after it is placed upon the table, or before it is served out to them by the cooks. By strict attention to this duty, much sickness might be prevented, and many men preserved to the service, that by this neglect are from disease lost to us.

It will be seen by the foregoing report, that regiment after regiment has been recruited, organized and dispatched to the seat of war with remarkable promptness, having at one time eight regiments ready for the field, which, owing to delay in receiving their arms and clothing, were necessarily detained for a short time. This delay in receiving arms and clothing, although it is chargeable to the general government, undoubtedly was unavoidable, owing to the heavy demands made at that time by all the States, and when compared with other neighboring States, there is not much cause for fault-finding, for, as a general thing, while other States have had to send their regiments from home partly clothed and armed, the troops from this State have gone into the field well clothed and equipped, and, with the exception of some of the cavalry regiments, fully armed with the best in the service. They have been generally supplied with tents, and all with a full compliment of garrison equipage. To this, in a great measure, the State is indebted to Captain Geo. W. Lee, U. S. Assistant Quartermaster, for the energetic and prompt discharge of his duty. While faithfully discharging his duty to the general government, he has never lost sight of the fact that he is a citizen of this State, and has all its best interests at heart.

Notwithstanding the efforts made by organized societies and sanitary commissions, for the assistance and protection of sick and disabled soldiers, which associations have been very successful, and much good accomplished by them, and in addition thereto that special agents authorized by your Excellency, have been sent to the different armies to attend as far as possible to the wants of the soldiers; yet those agents have received no remuneration, and could not be expected to continue long in such service, or to devote their whole time to that purpose. Therefore, there has been no certainty of having agents continually in the field, which is very necessary. I would therefore most respectfully and earnestly recommend to your Excellency that some provision be made for the appointment and payment of two special agents—one for the Eastern and one for the Western army—whose duties would be to attend to the distribution of sanitary supplies, the procuring of the necessary papers to enable sick soldiers while in hospital to obtain their pay; to see that they are properly cared for while in hospital; obtain transportation for them to return home; and attend generally to their wants as far as practicable. If these appointments could be authorized and made, by selecting good, energetic and faithful agents, they will be of infinite service to the sick and disabled soldiers themselves, and establish confidence among their friends that their necessities are properly attended to.

While thousand after thousand of the citizens of the State have left their homes, and given up for a time the peaceful avocations of life, and entered upon a life of hardship and privation, those whom they have left behind have not been unmindful of them. The many societies formed all over the State to provide necessaries in various forms attest this fact. The contributions to these various societies have been immense. Through them, out of the rich abundance of the State, the sick soldier has not been forgotten. While hearts were sad at their absence, they cheerfully administered to their wants. These societies thus established all over the land have been the means of alleviating much suffering and of saving many lives, and are deserving of, and will receive, the gratitude of the whole army.

The sanitary commissions established in various parts of the country, although in certain quarters meeting with much unreasonable opposition at first, have now become institutions of the war, fully sustained by the people and the government, as they well deserve, being one of the most humane and praiseworthy undertakings ever connected with any military campaign.

The State has generously and necessarily made provision by law to a certain extent, for the relief of the families of enlisted men, or those depending upon them for support, and a most responsible and delicate duty has devolved upon the supervisors in the several counties charged with the distribution of this relief. As this distribution is left under the law, entirely to their discretion, it renders it essential that much good judgment, discrimination and delicacy should be exercised by them in the execution of this duty. While they are careful in guarding against imposition on the State, they should at the same time respect the necessities of applicants, and give cheerfully what, in their judgment, they are entitled to under the law, always avoiding any intimation that it is given in charity, but as a right to the extent of their necessities, and the reflection must not be stamped on the loyal and brave heart of the soldier, while absent defending his country's honor, that his family are reproached at home as objects of charity. While it is believed that supervisors generally throughout the State have done their duty fully, judiciously and delicately, yet if reports are to be believed, there are exceptions to be made, and there should be some measures taken to redress grievances of such a character.

I have the pleasure of calling your Excellency's notice to the able and effective service rendered in this Department by Lieut. Col. Frederick Morley, the Assistant Adjutant General. The heavy and responsible duties devolving upon him since his appointment have been most arduous and complicated, and they have been performed with great fidelity to the State and usefulness to the public service.

At the time of making the last Annual Report from this Department, covering only a small portion of the force now in the service from this State, it was thought that the regiments then reported, would be all that would be required to suppress the rebellion; but another year is nearly closed, and regiment after regiment has been raised, until a large army has gone from the State, and still the rebellion goes on. Notwithstanding all this, the loyalty and patriotism of the people is unexhausted. The same determination seems to exist as at the commencement of the war, that it must be put down, and the nation redeemed, at any sacrifice. The promptness and cheerfulness with which every call made by the General Government upon the State, has been responded to, bespeaks the intelligent loyal patriotism of its people. The people of Michigan are intelligently loyal on the subject of the war, and her soldiery are intelligently brave and patriotic, true to the honor of their State and their nation, preferring, on all occasions, death before dishonoring either.

The troops from the State of Michigan have gained a prominent position in the armies of the nation. They have done their duty faithfully, fully and fearlessly, and borne the brunt of many well fought fields. Some of them have proved an anomaly in modern warfare; suddenly called from the common avocations of life, and within a very few days of the time of leaving their native State, they have been pitted against the veteran troops of the enemy of their country in superior numbers, and completely routed them. It has been the fortune of some of them voluntarily and successfully to lead the "forlorn hope," regardless of opposing numbers. Their scars and thinned ranks now attest their services to their country. The honor of their nation and their State has been safe in their hands, and both will cherish and reward them. Monuments to the memory of the brave dead are now erected in the hearts of the people, and national monuments to their memory will be erected by a grateful country.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

JNO. ROBERTSON,

Adjutant General.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE REPORT

OF THE

ADJUTANT GENERAL

OF THE

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

FOR THE YEAR 1862.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT, MICHIGAN.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Detroit, February 27, 1863.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

In compliance with a joint resolution of the Legislature, adopted at its present session, requesting the Adjutant General, if in his power to do so, "to furnish to the Legislature, at his earliest convenience, a supplement to his annual report, giving the casualties in battle, deaths by disease, sick in hospitals, discharged from service, and causes of such discharge, and such information as he may deem of interest, of the private soldiers heretofore and now in the military service of the United States, from this State," I have the honor to submit the accompanying statistics.

The facts presented include all the deaths by disease, or in action, or of wounds received in action, the missing in action, and all the discharges, with the reasons therefor, which occurred among the enlisted men of the Michigan troops, from the beginning of the war to the 31st of December last, so far as these casualties have been reported to this department. The information is based upon the official returns of regiments and batteries. The returns of the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th Cavalry, the Engineers and Mechanics, and the 1st, 2d, 4th, 6th, 8th, 10th, 11th, 16th, 17th, 20th, 24th and 25th Infantry, are complete, covering their entire service to the end of last year. Those of the 7th and 9th Infantry are the most imperfect; while regiments not specified, are behind, respectively, in the returns of from one to three months. With the exception of the 3d, the batteries are all more or less delinquent in this respect, while the Michigan company in the Western Sharp-Shooters, and the company of Sharp-Shooters attached to the 16th Infantry, are all in that branch of the service which have made their returns regularly. Greater regularity exists at this time than at any previous period, in the receipt of these regimental returns, and this department has no doubt it will yet succeed in procuring such as are lacking, unless it may be in cases where the exigencies of the service have caused the destruction or loss of the original records.

The list of "Missing in Action," does not include those who, after having been thus reported, have rejoined their regiments. It is not possible, owing to the nature of the returns, and the constantly occurring changes, to furnish to the Legislature a satisfactory report of the "Sick in Hospitals."

Nor has it been deemed expedient to transmit a record of the reported desertions. While a reliable return of this character would be productive of good to the service, and might subserve the public interests in other respects, a premature report, known to contain errors which cannot yet be corrected, would inflict undeserved stigmas which could never be wiped out. During a period of active service and long marches, it is very common for men to become separated from their regiments through no fault of thier own, and to be unable, sometimes for a considerable period, to rejoin them. In many instances they are taken in charge of a provost guard, and placed on post or hospital duty, far in the rear of the march of their regiment; in others, they are sent, disabled, into hospitals, while weeks may elapse before their officers become advised of their condition. It is known to this department that many cases of this kind have occurred, which, under the rules of the service, are reported as desertions. After a time they rejoin their regiments, and are reported as "Gained from Desertion." Their absence being satisfactorily explained, they resume their places, without prejudice or disgrace. Out of the numbers reported as deserters, a comparative few, only, are able to explain their absence satisfactorily, and much the greater proportion deserve and will ultimately receive the reward of their recreancy and bad faith. But it is thought that it would be better at present to forego the advantages which would follow a publication of the names so returned, rather than unjustly affix, through a published State paper, the effects of which cannot be recalled, a reproach of such magnitude upon even a few brave men, whose fortunes have temporarily connected them with a disgraced class, and whose general career may have entitled them to the respect which belongs to a brave soldier and a faithful patriot. At the same time, a constant record will be kept of all who are reported as deserters, and it will hereafter be given to the public, divested of the names which may have been erroneously embraced in it, to receive the opprobrium which all true men attach to a flagrant and cowardly crime.

LIST OF CASUALTIES

Among the Enlisted Men of the Michigan Troops, in the service of the United States, from the beginning of the War to the 31st of December, 1862, as reported to the Adjutant General of the State, in the returns of Regiments, &c.

NOTE.—The casualties among officers are embraced in the Annual Reports for 1861 and 1862.

At the time of making the last annual report from this Department, it was thought best not to include the casualties amongst the enlisted men, as the returns received from regiments up to that date necessary to derive the information from, were not considered very complete, and especially as it was intended in a future report to publish the names of all the men who have entered the service from this State, and in which all the casualties occurring amongst them would be embraced, and in doing this additional efforts would be made to have the information as correct as possible; and although this partial report has been made, it is still the intention of this Department to furnish a complete report, at some future day, embracing everything that can be obtained touching the history of each individual then in service, or who may have been in the service up to that time. At great labor the records of this office are being kept up with that view, but still these efforts may be in a great measure rendered abortive without the full co-operation of the officers in command of regiments from whose returns these records must of necessity be made, and it may not be out of place to again call the attention of commandants of regiments to the necessity of making full and regular returns to this Department.

The enlisted men are the bone and sinews of that power which must ultimately bring this rebellion to an end, and consequently none are more deserving of a full and truthful record, and although it may be impossible for history to do justice to them by recording the important part taken by each in the suppression of this rebellious war, yet it is within the power of States to do so, and no expense or labor should be spared to accomplish so deserving a purpose.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient serv't,

JNO. ROBERTSON,

Adjutant General.
